Program:

A native of Mineral Point, Dr. Joshua Lindsey, MD, Orthopedic Surgeon at Southwest Health Center, provided an overview of his adventures and challenges in finally deciding upon his career in Orthopedic Surgery. Having married a young lady from Madison as well as having experienced life in other regions, it was their desire to return to Southwest Wisconsin. Thus they were delighted when the opportunity surfaced to serve the needs of clients with Southwest Health Center.

Dr. Lindsey received his MD degree at University of Wisconsin School of Medicine and Public Health in Madison, his Orthopedic Surgery Residency was completed at University of Washington in Seattle, attended Harvard Medical School's Brigham and Women's Hospital in Boston for Adult Reconstruction Fellowship (hip and knee) and completed studies of Sports Medicine Fellowship

President Ron Weier (rt) shakes hands with today's speaker, Dr. Joshua Lindsey, MD, (shoulder, elbow, knee) at University of Rochester, Rochester, NY. His tremendous experience and knowledge includes the latest advances in orthopedic surgery, rehab therapy, and sport-specific training for every age and ability.

Dr. Lindsey shared his professional philosophy – “Showing patients exactly what options they have, educating them about procedures, and helping people make informed decisions about their care are things I’m passionate about.” A short period of Q&A followed Dr. Lindsey’s presentation. The final diagnosis: Southwest Health Center and the communities of Southwest Wisconsin are fortunate to have the expertise of Dr. Lindsey so close.
